AI: Friend or Foe?

POSTCARD

Round Square Zoom Postcard Session 'AI: Friend or Foe?' will explore how artificial intelligence is shaping the way teens connect, learn, and navigate daily life. We'll look at how AI companions—from chatbots to virtual friends—can support social interaction and emotional wellbeing, while also considering the risks of relying too much on them. The session will highlight how AI can be a creative and educational tool when used mindfully, and discuss ways to maintain a healthy balance between digital interactions and real-world connections.

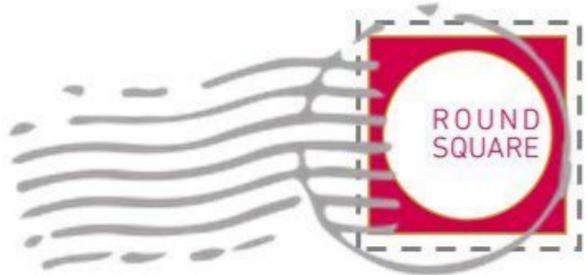

By the end of the session, participants will reflect on how to embrace AI's benefits without losing sight of genuine human relationships.

We are excited for you to join us on this call!
